1 Q. Now, you identify, specifically in 05:02	1 Q. So is it your opinion or is it your testimony 05:04
2 paragraph 451, a series of other documents purported 05:02	2 that one must consider the source code in the context 05:04
3 purportedly related to Massive-3; is that correct? 05:02	3 of both these Greenhalgh articles in order to evidence 05:04
4 A. Correct. 05:02	4 anticipation of the asserted claims of the 05:04
5 Q. This includes an article by Mr. Chris 05:02	5 '605 patents? 05:05
6 Greenhalgh titled, "Applications Of Temporal Links: 05:02	6 A. All the material source code and these 05:05
7 Recording and Replaying Virtual Environments"; is that 05:02	7 articles are part of the evidence that Massive-3 as a 05:05
8 correct? 05:02	8 system anticipates the claims. 05:05
9 A. Correct. 05:02	9 Q. Now, two of those articles are separated by 05:05
10 Q. And that bears a date of August of 2002? 05:02	10 more than two years in time. 05:05
11 A. Correct. 05:02	11 Do you see that? 05:05
12 Q. There's also another article by Mr. Greenhalgh 05:02	12 A. Yes. 05:05
13 entitled "Temporal links: Recording and Replaying 05:03	13 Q. And the source code you're referring to 05:05
14 Virtual Environments" that's referred to as Greenhalgh 05:03	14 apparently was changed last in 1999. Is that also 05:05
15 2; is that also correct? 05:03	15 correct? 05:05
16 A. Correct. 05:03	16 A. I cannot swear to the exact date without 05:05
17 Q. And that bears a purported publication date of 05:03	17 seeing the reference. Yes, last changed in 1999. 05:05
18 October 2000; is that correct? 05:03	18 Q. Okay. Actually for accuracy, I apologize, I 05:05
19 A. Correct. 05:03	19 misstated that, it says you indicate in the sentence 05:05
 Q. Have you ever spoken to Mr. Greenhalgh? 05:03 A. I have not. 05:03 	20 above that the revisions range from 1997 to 2002. Is 05:05 21 that correct? 05:05
Q. So is your understanding of Massive-3 limited 05:03	22 A. Revisions indicate the dates of the 05:05
23 to your interpretation of the source code and your 05:03	23 revisions, from '97 to 2002, the code I reviewed inside 05:05
24 readings of these Greenhalgh articles? 05:03	24 this report, the particular code file was last changed 05:06
25 A. In addition to, of course, that the length of 05:03 Page 496	25 and continued to operate that way right, so so 05:06 Page 498
1 my experience as a developer and also based on the 05:03	1 good point, right. Because I just saw the last change 05:06
2 screenshots, videos and data that are also listed here 05:03	2 in '99. 05:06
3 in the documentation. 05:03	3 Q. Yeah, I did, too. 05:06
4 Q. Okay. Does the Massive-3 source code standing 05:03	4 A. But no.
5 alone anticipate any of the independent strike that. 05:03	5 Q. Sorry. 05:06
6 Does the Massive-3 source code standing alone 05:03	6 A. Yeah, last change in 2002, but the point being 05:06
7 anticipate the asserted claims of the '605 patent? 05:03	7 that if an individual code file was last changed 05:06
8 A. Again, hard to say exactly without, you know, 05:03	8 earlier, it would still continue to operate that way 05:06
9 reviewing it in detail more, could very well. 05:03	9 when Massive-3 was run in 2002. 05:06
10 Certainly, Massive-3, the system as a whole, including 05:03	10 Q. So what is the basis for that opinion? 05:06
11 art assets and other things and code does. 05:04	11 A. When we're talking about when a code file was 05:06
12 Q. Does the first Chris Greenhalgh article, 05:04	12 last changed, it's still part of the Massive system, so 05:06

1 Q. What is an agent in the context of Massive-3? 05:12	1 A. I'm there. 05:15
2 A. It is their term for, say, in in Unreal, 05:12	2 Q. You're referencing Claim 2 of the '605 patent; 05:15
3 would be called an actor. It is something that can be 05:12	3 is that correct? 05:15
4 moved around and displayed. 05:12	4 A. That is correct. 05:15
5 Q. And where did you where did you come from 05:12	5 Q. In 486, your theory of infringement I'm 05:15
6 that understanding of how Massive-3 refers to an agent 05:13	6 sorry.
7 and what it's inclusive of? 05:13	7 Your theory of invalidity is based on 05:15
8 A. By reviewing the source code. 05:13	8 obviousness; is that correct? 05:15
9 Q. Okay. So is that apparent through the review 05:13	9 A. Yes. 05:15
10 of the Locale.c file that Massive-3 refers to agents as 05:13	10 Q. And to arrive at the proposed obviousness 05:15
11 being inclusive of avatars? 05:13	11 combination that you disclose at 486, does this require 05:15
12 A. While without looking at the exact code, I 05:13	12 a modification of the Massive-3 system? 05:16
13 could not be 100 percent sure that that specific code 05:13	13 A. Yes. It would it would not you couldn't 05:16
14 file shows that agents are inclusive of avatars. I 05:13	14 just run it as they had and and have that happen. 05:16
15 think it does by my memory, but I couldn't say for sure 05:13	15 Q. Do you believe the modification that you 05:16
16 without referring to it. If it's not that one, it's 05:13	16 proposed with respect to Massive-3 is consistent with 05:16
17 another one because they're that's what very much 05:13	17 the overall teachings of Massive-3? 05:16
18 shows that agents can be player controlled. 05:13	18 A. I believe they are. 05:16
19 Q. Okay. 05:13	19 Q. Why is that? 05:16
20 A. But I do believe this one actually shows that. 05:13	20 A. Because the type of experience that they are 05:16
21 Q. Was there any disclosure or explanation 05:13	21 attempting to create could be made more engaging, more 05:16
22 consistent with your testimony found in either the 05:13	22 immersive if they actually had collision with objects 05:16
23 Greenhalgh 1 or Greenhalgh 2 articles with respect to 05:13	23 in the scene. Wouldn't even have to be full collision, 05:16
24 an agent being an avatar? 05:14	24 but at least basic collision, especially with large 05:16
25 A. Well, I would have to look through the 05:14	25 environmental objects. 05:16

By increasing immersion for the players, users 05:18 20 of the experience, by not having the world seem so 05:18 21 insubstantial and and, you know, very virtual, 05:18 22 not not mirroring anything resembling their 05:18 23 experience in the real world. 05:18
2 reference to that. I do not recall that they talked 05:14 3 about their internal terminology in the code in those 05:14 4 articles. 05:14 5 Sometimes people use the same thing in the 05:14 6 codes when they talk about it, sometimes they don't. 05:14 7 And so I cannot recall for sure. They might, but I do 05:14 8 not recall a specific place where they do. 05:14 9 Q. Okay. You've referenced leaving an instance 05:14 10 if enough budget is purportedly not available. 05:14 11 Do you see that? 05:14 12 A. Yes. 05:14 13 Q. Does leaving an instance constitute being 05:14 14 transported to a new instance? 05:14 15 A. It would not have to, right? You could in 05:14 16 certain situations be returning to a common environment 05:14 17 that was not instanced. You could have situations 05:14 18 where it forcibly logged you out. But, of course, it 05:15 19 could also be that you were moved to a new instance. 05:15 20 Q. But is being dropped from an instance, does 05:15 21 that guarantee or does that imply that I am assigned to 05:15 22 a new one? 05:15	2 respect to Claim 2 of the '605 patent, Mr. Ellinger, 05:17 3 did you undertake any considerations of teaching away? 05:17 4 A. I did. 05:17 5 Q. And what were those considerations? 05:17 6 A. I considered whether that it would because 05:17 7 of the nature of of the of Massive-3, whether 05:17 8 it it would be something that they wouldn't want to 05:17 9 do, right, because of their goals or something like 05:17 10 that. Right, and so I considered that, but I believe 05:17 11 they would want to do this. 05:17 12 Q. Why do you believe that? 05:17 13 A. Because I believe it would make the user 05:17 14 experiences better which is a clear goal that they 05:17 15 have. 05:17 16 Q. And how would the proposed change that you set 05:17 17 forth with respect to Claim 2 make the user experience 05:18 18 better? 05:18 19 A. By increasing immersion for the players, users 05:18 20 of the experience, by not having the world seem so 05:18 21 insubstantial and and, you know, very virtual, 05:18 22 not not mirroring anything resembling their 05:18 23 experience in the real world. 05:18
